Park Community Credit Union and Urban League Teaming Up For Girls' Summit 2018

Louisville, KY, - Park Community Credit Union and the Louisville Urban League are hosting the 2018 Middle School Girls' Summit on Thursday, June 7th, 2018.

The summit was created for middle school girls, ages 11 – 14, with the single goal to empower and cultivate Louisville's young women of today into tomorrow's leaders.

The day-long summit will focus on promoting healthy lifestyle, financially savvy and independence. Attendees will also have the opportunity to meet accomplished women in leadership roles and hear their stories of success and how they achieved it. Speakers on tap include Katie George, WDRB reporter, Nikki Jackson, Senior Vice President and Regional Executive of the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis, Louisville Branch, and many more.

"Girls in this age group face so many challenges during this important time in their lives. We want to help build them up and develop some practical skills they'll need in the future," said Carla Robinson of the Louisville Urban League.

"We're honored to host this year's event. We think having an opportunity to hear from successful women who have faced some of the same challenges will be very powerful," said Kate McKune, General Counsel with Park Community Credit Union. "We have a standout group of women from various Louisville businesses and non-profits lending their time and expertise to the girls."

The summit will be held at E.P. "Tom" Sawyer State Park on Thursday, June 7 from 8am to 4pm. Those interested in attending the summit should visit the Park Community Credit Union website at parkcommunity.com, the Louisville Urban League at lul.org or the Eventbrite registration page at
