FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

PARK COMMUNITY CREDIT UNION CELEBRATES CONTINUED GROWTH WITH GRAND OPENING OF TWO LEXINGTON LOCATIONS

With two new Lexington locations opening in 2026, Park is expanding access to financial services with a third branch planned later this year

Lexington, Ky. (August 2026) – Park Community Credit Union welcomed community members, business leaders, elected officials, and partners on August 13 to commemorate the grand opening and ribbon cutting of its two Lexington branches, reaffirming its commitment to expanding access to financial services throughout the Bluegrass region.

The new branches, located at 3101 Clays Mill Rd. and 547 Euclid Ave., offer a full range of personal and business financial services designed to help individuals, families, and businesses achieve their financial goals. The grand opening celebration featured refreshments, giveaways, and opportunities for attendees to connect with Park team members and learn more about the credit union's growing presence in Lexington.

As Kentucky's largest Community Development Financial Institution (CDFI) Credit Union, Park's continued growth in the Bluegrass reflects its commitment to expanding access to affordable financial services, trusted financial guidance, and meaningful community investment. Park was also recently recognized by Forbes as a 2026 Best-in-State Credit Union in Kentucky and received recognition in 2026 Best of Lexington, highlighting its commitment to delivering exceptional service and community impact.

"Opening new branches in Lexington marks an exciting milestone for Park and reflects our long-term commitment to this community," said Jana Erny, President and CEO of Park. "We're here to build meaningful relationships, invest in the people and organizations that make Lexington strong, and help create even more opportunities for the community to thrive. We're incredibly excited about what's ahead and proud to grow alongside this community."

Jeremie Whiting, head salesperson at Mid City Auto in Winchester, has seen this firsthand. In the last month alone, Mid City Auto financed 25 auto loans through Park.

“It’s going to help residents of the Bluegrass area avoid high interest rates while still getting the vehicle they want,” Jeremie said. “Park wants to help, and if they say no, they work with my customers to get to yes.”

The new locations bring Park’s experience-first approach to banking to Lexington, providing welcoming spaces where members can access personalized financial guidance and connect with local team members who understand their goals and challenges. Because Park is member-owned and not-for-profit, every decision is focused on returning value to members and creating a more personal approach to banking.

“Our growth in Lexington has been driven by the trust our members place in us and the meaningful relationships we’ve built throughout the community,” said Adam Reynolds, Chief Operating Officer of Park. “Whether they’re opening their first account, planning a major life milestone, or simply stopping in with a question, we want them to know they’re much more than a transaction at Park. Our success is measured by the positive impact we make in the lives of our members and in the communities we serve.”

Park believes that many important financial decisions benefit from trusted relationships and personal conversations. Members can access Park’s services through a combination of convenient digital and in-person banking options, including Interactive Teller Machines (ITMs), that provide extended access to live teller assistance. All Park team members are HERO-certified financial counselors, trained to help members navigate financial opportunities and challenges with confidence.

Park’s expansion in Lexington began in April 2026 with the opening of its Euclid Ave. branch in the Chevy Chase/Ashland Park neighborhood near the University of Kentucky campus. The Clays Mill branch, which opened in June 2026, further expanded Park’s presence in the market. The credit union plans to continue growing in Lexington with a third branch opening later this year.

With investments such as its Lexington expansion, Park continues to advance its purpose of empowering communities, fueling dreams, and cultivating belonging while creating greater access to opportunities for the individuals, families, and businesses it serves.
